NEW SHAKE-UP IN THE DUVALL REGIME

Indianapolis Mayor Believed to Have Appeased City Council With Rapid Series of Changes

VIRGIL VANDAGRIFFT QUITS

Ten Officials Involved In Number of Elevations and Demotions Ordered by The Mayor

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Threatened by impeachment, mayor John L. Duvall was believed this afternoon to have appeased the city council by a rapid series of changes in his administration, involving ten officials.

The shakeup brought about elevations and demotions and resulted in a lineup regarded as more favorable t o the majority faction of the council.

The changes:

Virgil Vandagrifft, president of the board of works, resigned because of the indictment charging him with violating the state securities law.

Frank Cones, from board of works member to president of the board.

Charles L. Riddle, from assistant street commissioner to board of works member.

Robert F. McNay, from municipal garage superintendent at $3,000 a year to city sign inspector at $2,500.

Frank Haugham from sign inspector at $2,500 to assitant city building commissioner at $3,500.

W. A. Osborn, from assistant city building commissioner to private life. He resigned to take a better job.

William Hamiltŏn, former municipal garage superintendent, appointed city street commissioner.

Ray Seibert, from municipal garage foreman to superintendent.

Emmanuel Wetter, apponited bookkeeper for board of works, succeeding Ralph Boyer.

Ray Daggett, named municipal garage foreman.

Haugham is father-in-law and Seibert a brother-in-law of councilman Boynton J. Moore who had been threatening to introduce a resolution of impeachment.

As a result, the changes not only added to Duvall's reputation as an "up-and-down" mayor, but also as an "in-law executive."

Because, he said, he did not wish his recent indictment under the state securities law to "visit a part of my misfortune on the people of Indianapolis," Vandagrifft, who was

EMPLOYER-EMPLOYE RELATIONS DISCUSSED

Theme For Rotary Club Speakers at Business Methods Meeting Held At Noon Session

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS PLAY

The relations between employers and employes was discussed at the noon luncheon of the Rotary club at the Odd Fellows temple, with George Wiltse, chairman of the club's business method committee, in charge of the program. The general outline of suggestions for discussion by employers, as arranged by Rotary International, was followed.

The musical part of the program was provided by John Neutzenhelzer and Harry Spanagel, two high school boys who played two clarinet duets, with piano accompaniment by Miss Burla Cato. Both their numbers were received with warm applause.

The speakers on the program were Floyd Kirklin, Robert Pierce, Frank Mullins, Will O. Feudner and Louis Mauzy. Various phases of the employer-employe question were discussed with profit to the members of the club. Unfair trade practices will be taken up at a future business methods meeting.

Walter Hubbard of Indianapolis, a former member of the Rushville club, and Mr. Stansbury of Indianapolis were the only guests present.

EDUCATION BOARD ELECT OFFICERS

Organization is Completed for Year and Many Questions Effecting Schools are Discussed

TO CO-OPERATE ON CIRCUS

Trustees Also Plan for Schools to Take Part in Corn Show—Other Plans are Approved

The Rush County Board of Education, composed of the twelve township trustees held their October meeting Monday afternoon in the county superintendent's office, and re-elected the same officers for the ensuing year, with the board being headed by H. M. Cowing, Rushville township, as president.

Several important business matters came before the meeting after the election of officers. Others who were re-elected for the coming year were J. C. Power of Anderson township, vice president; Harold Beale of Richland as recording secretary and Alonzo Sheedy of Walker township as corresponding secretary.

B. D. Farthing, county superintendent, appointed six committees to function during the ensuing year and these committees include those for business, attendance, educational, vocational, special activities, special subjects, transportation, rules and regulations.

The trustees discussed plans for the Indoor Circus and a program for the schools was arranged and approved by the board, with each township having a part on the program at the circus.

Corn show plans also were discussed at this time, and plans were made to take part in the corn show by having the various schools cooperate. The trustees were also reminded of the Teachers' Retirement law, which makes it necessary for a certain percent of the wages of a teacher to be deducted during the school year for that fund. The deductions will come with the payment of the second, fourth and sixth months pay, and the average for a teacher in this county will be $32 a year.

The board approved the plan of the teachers attending the state meeting at Indianapolis October 20 and 21, and also approved a school visiting day program in which the teachers, especially the younger ones, will be given an opportunity of visiting in some other school and observe how an experienced school teacher conducts classes.

The county board also favored the plan of a parent-teachers association in each township and arrangements will be made to have a representative of the state association speak to the board at their next meeting, concerning plans for making township orgaizations here.

The board also expressed an interest in landscape gardening for school grounds, and a visit sometime during the school year is contemplated by the trustees and principals to sections in Indiana where the school yards have been transformed into a beautiful scenic affect. The agricultural classes in the township schools are interested in this work, and will assist in completing the details.

EXTRADICTION PAPERS DENIED

Ohio Governor Refuses To Honor Requisition of Xenia Man

Sheriff L. M. Coons, who went to Columbus, O., Monday to hear the decree of the governor in the matter of obtaining extradition papers for D. Nelson James, wanted here for embezzlement, returned late Monday without the prisoner, and the extradition petition was refused.

The Ohio man, who lives in Xenia, was wanted here on an embezzlement charge, and the Ohio governor heard the evidence Saturday. He gave his opinion Monday, and ruled that because the contract with a stock remedy company was made in Ohio that the contract was binding only as it related to that state, and did not apply for violations done in Indiana. He is charged here with having erased the name from checks, and substituted his own name instead of the firm.

Ferocious Animals For Indoor Circus To Be Sent By Express From St. Louis

Confirmation of Order Received After Negotiations With Cincinnati Zoo Failed. Extra Precautions to be Taken to Prevent Stampede During Wild Beast Act. Sideshows Will be Under One Large Tent Near Gymnasium

Plans are fast taking shape for the Rush County Indoor Circus to be staged at the Rushville high school gymnasium Thursday and Friday nights, October 13 and 14, following a general meeting Monday night at which directors of departments reported on the progress made and group meetings for the various acts were held.

Arrangements were completed last night for advertising the circus in all of the schools of the county, one speaker being assigned to each school. Every school will be visited next Monday morning and the time allotted at each for a short talk about the circus will be 8:30 to 8:45 o'clock.

The schedule of speakers was prepared as follows: Milroy, H. B. Allman; Center, Will Leach; Jackson, B. D. Farthing; New Salem, John A. Titsworth; Moscow, Omer Trusler; Arlington, A. L. Gary; Richland, Lon Moore; Carthage, Will P. Jay; Circleville, Charles F. Wilson; Webb Will O. Feudner; Glenwood, Charles F. Taylor; Gings, Fred Brown; Homer, John Perkins; Manilla, Warder Wyatt; Raleigh, Hugh E. Mauzy.

Dusty Miller went to the gymnasius this morning to look over the location for his high diving dog act. The act has been embellished since being given at the Rush county free fair and will be one of the stellar attractions of the circus. Dot, his famous diving dog, now jumps a hurdle before leaving the top of the ladder.

Thursday night, when the first performance will be given, promises to be the best because all of the actors and the animals will be on their mettle to put the circus over in big syle. Furthemore, the big street parade will be staged only on the opening night.

An additional attraction the opening night will be a balloon ascensio in the downtown district just preceding the paarde, scheduled for six o'clock.

The parade will form down town and move through the business district to the gymnasium. Some of the animal cages will be closed during the parade because, true to circus traditions, the whole show can't be exhibited free of charge.

The sideshows will be housed under one large tent just east of the gymnasium and a mammouth show will be given, all of the price of ten cents, the committee in charge has decided. The sideshows will be in charge of Dusty Miller, and Bill Jay the first night, and the second night they will have the assistance of Ray Compton.

Confirmation of the order for twenty-four ferocious animals was received today. The animals will come from the Forest Park Zoo, St. Louis, Mo., instead of the Cincinnati Zoo, as originally intended. Negotiations could not be successfully closed with the Cincinnati Zoo officials, it is stated, for the use of the trained wild beasts, and the committee turned to the St. Louis Zoo, with excellent results. The animals will be shipped by express, according to confirmation received today.

The executive committee sent out an S. O. S. today for some good bright No. 1 timothy hay for the

WILL CASE EVIDENCE IS NOW BEING PRESENTED

Witnesses in Case Seeking to Contest Will of Phoebe Phillips, Take Stand Today

JURY SELECTED LATE MONDAY

The case of Ada L. Wissing and others against Edward N. Phillips and others, a suit objecting to the probate of the will of Phoebe A. Phillips, was under way today in the circuit court with the introduction of witnesses by the plaintiff.

A jury was obtained late Monday and the case started at that time with the opening statement being made, and a few witnesses used. The case will require several days for trial, as a great many witnesses are called for the case.

A jury which is hearing the suit is composed of Fred Bills, Rex Readle, Don C. Brooks, Charles B. Wilson, Walter Rhodes, William Weingarth, Glenn Griffin, George Hardesty, Dale Stevens, William S. McKee, George Wiltse and Paul Phillips.

The action is an affair between children and heirs of the deceased who during her life time lived in Arlington, and the plaintiffs are attempting to prevent the will from being offered to probate, which is practically the same as seeking to have the will set aside.

GERMAN PLANE IN ATLANTIC FLIGHT

Junkers Seaplane, G-24, Starts Air Voyage by Way of Azores and New Foundland

SECOND PLANE MAY FOLLOW

Severa Company, Backers, Hopes to Prove Regular Trans-Atlantic Air Service Feasible

Norderney, Frisian Islands, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—The Junkers seaplane, G-24 started a transAtlantic flight via the Azores Islands at 4:45 P. M. today.

It was announced that the G-24 would halt for fuel at Lisbon; Fayal, Azores Island; and New Foundland and then would proceed to New York.

The plane is piloted by Fritz Loose, who steered one of the two Junkers land planes on their recent unsuccessful Atlantic hop; and Starke, and Loewe, two Severa Company pilots. A mechanic, Rudolph Flitther accompanies them.

The Severa Company which owns the Junkers plane, planned to make the flight a tandem one if the G-24 succeeded. A second plane was to follow in its tracks, in order to demonstrate the company's belief in the feasibility of regular trans-Atlantic air service via the Azores and New Foundland—admitted by experts to be the most practicable route.

The G-24 reached Norderney—an Island in the Frisian group that skirts the North Sea coast of Germany—last night.

It was planned to start early today but the sea was rough and the weather unpromising.

Weather reports early today were favorable.

The plane is equipped with wireless sending and receiving apparatus. It is a powerful machine, with three motors.

The flight is understood to be subsidized and controlled by the government ministry of transportation, although the plane is privately owned and ostensibly the flight is private.

Woman Aboard Plane

Berlin Oct. 4—(U.P.)—It was said today upon apparently reliable authority that Mlle. Lilly Dillenz, described as a Viennese actress, was aboard the Junkers seaplane that started a trans-Atlantic flight today from Norderney Island.

The United Press so far had been unable to confirm the statement.

Levine Makes Forced Landing

Rome, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Charles A. Levine and his pilot, Capt. W. R. G. Hinchcliffe, made a forced landing on the outskirts of Rome late today.

The plane was slightly damaged. Levine, Hinchcliffe, and Prince Louis Ferdinand of Bourbon, who was to be a passenger on a flight to Bucharest, Rumania, were not injured.

Engine trouble forced the landing.

BLOW AT U. S. SWEET TOOTH

President of Cuba Signs Bill To Restrict Sugar Production

Havana, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—A $50,000,000 blow at America's sweet tooth was struck today when President Machado signed a bill providing for restriction of sugar production if necessary to guarantee profits to Cuban producers.

Sugar experts estimated that the bill, if its powers were used by the president and the five experts named to work under him, would boost the price of sugar in the United States ½ cent a pound.

Creating a government-controlled export company, the bill provides heavy tariffs for sugar produced in excess of amounts to be allotments of the capital in Cuban sugar is American and American financiers would benefit by any price boosting.

MEXICAN REBEL LEADER EXECUTED

Death of General Serrano, Co-leader of Revolt Against President Calles Announced

CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

His Execution Would Mean Government Scored Important Victory in the Rebellion

Mexico City, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—General Jose Alvarez, chief of staff of President Calles, announced at 1:30 a. m. today that General Francisco Serrano, alleged co-leader of the military revolt, was executed with 14 followers near Cuernavaca Monday morning.

Serrano is a candidate for the presidency against General Alvaro Obregon, whose candidacy President Calles is understood to favor.

His execution would mean that the government has scored a most important victory in the revolt.

Admitting the extent of the revolt of troops in the Mexico City garrison, but claiming the revolt had failed, President Calles in a statement Monday night said subordinates as well as commanding officers of the revolting troops were reporting back to duty.

Calles' statement said 800 men under general Almada left their barracks and took over the road to Texoco, 15 miles outside the capital, where airplane scouts reported them to be concentrated Monday.

"The rebels did not dare to combat the federals of the Mexico City garrison," Calles commented.

"Fortunately," he added, "this movement can be considered a failure in view of the fact that great numbers of commanding officers and subordinates have been reporting back to their barracks.

"I am not able to state that the rebel group, consisting of four battalions, does not at the present moment surpass 800 men."

GILLIOM-PETERS DISPUTE IS ENDED

State Democratic Chairman First Replies To Attorney General's "Bill of Particulars"

EVADED ISSUE, RETORT

Gilliom Asserts That Indiana Political Leader Failed In Correspondence to Answer Question

By WILLIAM E. HALLBERG
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Democratic state chairman R. Earl Peters and Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom appeared today to have written a period to their pre-election correspondence, each satisfied that he had acquitted himself well.

But first Peters made his reply to Gilliom's "bill of particulars" of what the attorney general had charged was democratic alliance with the Ku Klux Klan and the Indiana Anti-Saloon league. In this answer, Gilliom was told that Peters was not interested in his "conjectures and conclusions."

Gilliom retaliated today by reasserting that Peters had evaded the issue. The heat of previous exchanges was lacking from the last words of each and observers came to the conclusion that the week's skirmishing was ended.

It ended right where it started, acording to Gilliom, for he maintained Peters did not answer the chief question.

The question, Gilliom stated, was:

"Does the democratic party disown the Ku Klux Klan and the Anti-Salon league by name?"

Gilliom insisted that his sole purpose in carrying on the long range debate btween Fort Wayne and Indianapolis was to persuade Peters to denounce the klan and anti-saloon league.

This, he asserted, Peters evaded.

"I am," Gilliom told the United Press, "no less interested in having the democratic party denounce these insidious influences' by name than in having the republican party denounce them. My hope is that both will take an out-and-out stand in opposition."

Gilliom indicated that even though his discussion with Peters is closed, he intends to continue trying to pry loose what he says is the hold of the klan and anti-saloon league on po-

COMMISSIONERS PASS ON NEW HEATING PLANT

Accept it After Receiving Approval of Heating Engineers and Pay the Claim

CONTRACTS ARE AWARDED

After receiving the official approval of the heating engineers, Bevington and Williams, the new court house heating plant was passed by the county board of commissioners Monday afternoon and a claim for the amount due the contractor was allowed, with the exception of a small percent held in reserve for a certain period as provided by law.

The plant was installed during the past summer to replace the old plant, in use twelve years, which almost entirely failed last winter.

The commissioners also awarded county poor infirmary contracts at their Monday afternoon session as follows: Groceries, Charles C. Brown; men's shoes, E. J. Knecht; meat, Ed Haywood; women's shoes, the Mauzy Co.; dry goods, the Guffin Dry Goods store. The contract for providing coal at the court house and jail was awarded to the Frazee Coal and Lumber Co.

The board accepted the bids of Carroll Pitts and Calvin Hungerford to furnish gravel at fifty cents a yard.

The bond of Lowell Dyer of Ripley township as assistant highway superintendent was approved by the commissioners. He was appointed by the county highway superintendent, Ota Newhouse, to succeed his father John Dyer.

REFUSES TO RE-ENACT CRIME

Mrs. Lilliendahl of Hammonton, N. J. Says 6 Times is Enough

Hammonton, N. J. Oct. 4—(U.P.)—A firm refusal to re-enact the murder of her husband in Great Swamp Lane met authorities who called at the home of Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl today, determined to check up on her stories of the crime.

"Six times is enough to tell the story," Mrs. Lilliendahl said. "I don't see why it is necessary to have me go through this ordeal."

She was nervous.

"I am not going to do it," she repeated, when state police confidently entered her home satisfied there would be no difficulty.

She is at liberty under $25,000 bail as a material witness in the murder of Dr. William Lillendahl, aged narcotic specialist, who was slain while driving with her Sept. 15, last. Willis Beach, poultryman neighbor, indicted for "aiding and abetting" n the crime, is missing.

"The Life of Christ In Sacred Song" Is Given

"The Life of Christ in Sacred Song" was the title of the special program rendered by the Glenwood Methodist church, Sunday evening. The Rev. W. A. Hartsaw who is serving his fourth year as pastor of this church, was assisted by the Rev. O. P. Wamsley, lay evangelist of Rushville, who had charge of the music. The Rev. Mr. Wamsley regarded as splendid help to the pastor for special and evangelistic services. He came on invitation to the church and organized a juvenile choir and used it and the regular choir and other available talent of the community to make the program a sucess. This program was given also at the Falmouth Methodist church Sunday evening, Sept. 25, with the help of the people of that community. Large crowds attended the services at both places. This work is sponsored by the district superintendent.

Heat When You Want It

Save—Keep Warm
With Anchor—
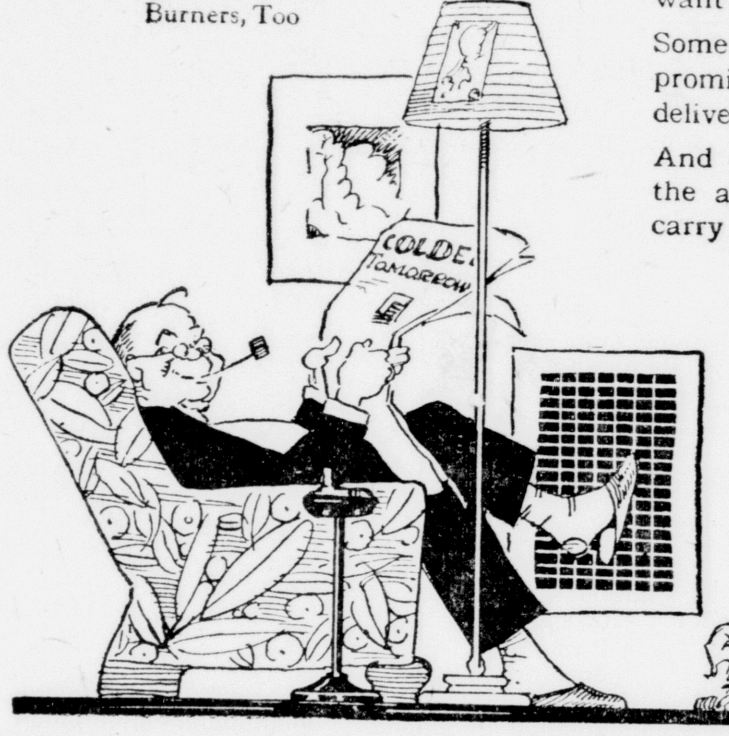
The Furnace Coal

Good For Stoves and
Burners, Too



YOU aren't going to fire up your furnace, if it's warm today, just because the paper says, "colder tomorrow."

But if tomorrow morning it really is cold—then you want heat in a hurry.

Some coals require twelve-hour notice before they promise delivery of heat. Not so with Anchor—it delivers a warm house within an hour of firing.

And on that bitter cold morning it's a joy to open the ash-pit door and find that you won't have to carry out any ashes.

BIBLE THOUGHT —FOR TODAY—

Bible Thoughts memorized, will prove a priceless heritage in after years.

Our Response: O sing unto the Lord a new song; for He hath done marvelous things: His right hand, and His holy arm hath gotten Him the victory. Psalm 98:1

Prayer: Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord, Jesus Christ.

Is Civilization Declining?

People who feel that civilization is on the decline and that decay has set in, should be reminded that the deeds of the few which are reprehensible do not represent the lives of the vast majority of the people. Most of us are apt to reach hasty conclusions based on insufficient evidence, in any discussions on the trend of the times.

One grievous error commonly made is to forget that New York City is not the entire United States; neither is Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco or any other large center of population in the country. Folks who live in urban environment are apt to make the mistake of concluding that the large cities are representative of the whole land, and their views influence to some extent those living in rural districts.

If there is any sign of decay in our cities, as many believe, it should not be taken too seriously, for it is not general decline so much as prominent sore spots. Too often people are undernourished by the poor feeding of the writers and the artists, and today perhaps we are suffering from malpractice in literature and art. The moving picture has given opportunity for such malpractice, but that is no argument for abandonment or curtailing of literature, art or the moving picture.

When men of the present generation were boys, the dime novel was blamed for the ruination of the young, but judging from the achievements of the last quarter of a century, some of them came through in very good shape.

The crime wave or the manifestations of immorality are not nearly so serious as the lack of interest shown in the affairs of government. There seems to be a most decided determination on the part of the voters not to cast their votes for one of the elite, if he is not what is generally known as a good mixer.

When the competency of a man to fill office is made secondary to his good fellowship, we are treading on dangerous ground; when the best vote getter is the best fellow and an habitual joiner, we need not expect more than we have been receiving in the matter of responsibility to the people in public office holders.

This looks like the democratic spirit carried to the extreme and it means that we are in for many more political blunders if the voters do not awaken to their responsibilities and come to a realization that honesty, integrity and ability should be the yard stick by which to measure a candidate for public office.

Silent Cities

Men who bewail the noise, the ugliness and the confusion of the present industrial order may find much that is comforting in recent announcements of what designers of machinery are accomplishing.

A few weeks ago there was widespread comment over certain developments suddenly recognized in manufacturing. Persons of artistic sense asserted that the manufacturers of a number of popular products were building beauty as well as utility into the machines they sold. The phonograph, the radi,o the automobile, it was pointed out, had in their earliest days been constructed with only the idea of utility in mind. Now many of these things have become delights to the eye.

At the Chemical Industries Exposition held in New York a further development of this idea was demonstrated. The ear, engineers appear to have decided, need no longer be outraged by the grindings and clashings of machinery. Therefore, they have developed and are showing nonmetal gears and wheels which mesh and turn and perform their functions in quiet. Soon, it is promised, we shall see the day when the machines and the factories of modern civilization are not only beautiful to see but silent. That is a distant but a cheering prediction for the noise-worn city dweller.

A Job for the States

Investment bankers of the country, meeting at Seattle, are on firm ground in opposing federal legislation of the "blue-sky" order to regulate the sale of securities. Their opposition cannot be attributed to commercial motives, since they have been among the most active advocates of state laws for the protection of investors, and obviously hese legitimate dealers have much to gain by the removal of fraudulent securities from the market.

They point out that the federal trade commission already possesses considerable jurisdiction over the peddlers of fake stocks and bonds or persons who make false representations for the purpose of selling securities. Eight orders were issued last month against promoters engaged in this sort of interstate commerce. The great need, in the opinion of the investment bankers, is for a uniform law to be adopted by the states.

In spite of the pressure, to date none of the more advanced specialists has ever actually prescribed a cigaret for laryngitis.

Idleness wears out many men and much machinery, and also has a sad tendency to age a last winter's felt hat.

The New York stock exchange is rushing construction work forward on its annex, or sheepfold.

Tell us your attitude toward the approach of Christmas, and we'll tell you how old you are.

We feel fairly secure at this time in announcing that Mr. Lowden does not choose to run.

Every week has too many nights to stay up late on all of them.

There seems to be money in too many things besides working.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Politicians will believe anything.

They seldom agree on anything with unanimity, but here are some of the things some of them believe:

That Governor Al Smith is the strongest candidate the Democrats could possibly run and is the only man who can win.

That Al's nomination would be a frightful boner and that he would run millions of votes behind any nice, respectable, dry Democrat.

That President Coolidge, either because of his own desire or that of others, or both, is definitely out of next year's presidential race.

That President Coolidge will be "drafted" by a worried party which feels that he is by far its safest candidate.

That Herbert Hoover can't possibly win because he doesn't fit with the politicians and can't gain enough strength in farm regions and the east.

That Hoover is riding on a rising tide of popularity among the business men and the people which will easily give him a majority at the convention.

THEY'RE sure:

That Jim Reed is the strongest Democratic candidate because he is bound to inherit the Smith strength when Smith definitely fails to break through the two-thirds rule.

That Jim hasn't a chance because he's wet, because the farmers are sore at him and because he deserted Woodrow Wilson.

That Frank Lowden knows he can't win with his prospective bloc of farm state delegates and that he will bequeath them to Dawes as soon as he has had a brief fling at the convention.

That Lowden has a chance to win because—(well, come to think of it, nobody really believes this one).

That Charles Evans Hughes will be nominated with the support of Andy Mellon, the eastern Republicans, the international bankers and the Standard Oil Company.

That Hughes won't be nominated because the electorate knows he has the support of Andy Mellon, the international bankers and the Standard Oil Company.

That Smith can carry New York, Massachusetts and Illinois against the Republican candidate.

That Smith can't carry Massachusetts and Illinois in any event and couldn't beat Hughes in New York.

COLUMBUS WINS BY POINT MARGIN

Scoring Extra Point After Touchdown Enables Visitors To Carry Home Football Victory

ALL SCORNG FIRST HALF

Both Teams Count With Forward Passes, Each Showing Proficiency In The Aerial Department

Columbus high school won a football contest from the Rushville high school, 7 to 6, in a game played here Monday afternoon, when both teams appeared to be well matched, and neither was able to score in the last half.

Columbus made their touchdown soon atfer the game opened. They kicked off to Rushville, but with a couple of penalties the locals lost ground and kicked, with Columbus recovering tne ball on their own 40 yard line. They made their gains on three downs and earned a first down on the 30 yard line. On their first, they were penalized 5 yards, but on the second a forward pass was made to Shaner, who carried the ball over for a six point lead.

In the play for a point after the touchdown, another pass was completed with Irvin making the catch, and puting the score 7 to 0. The play had only been going on a few minutes.

The Columbus team then kicked off to Rushville on the visitors 35 yard line. The locals carried the ball to midfield on the next play, but were unable to gain another first down, by a few inches, and lost the ball to Columbus near Rushville's 40 yard line.

Play was kept in the center of the field with both teams having possession of the ball until near the end of the quarter when Rushville took the ball down into their own territory and was within 15 yards of the goal.

With play resumed in the second quarter Rushville had the ball on their first down within 15 yards of their goal. On their first down they lost a couple of yards, but gained it back on a pass to Sheplar, with 7 yards yards to go for a first down and only 17 yards from their goal. A third down brought a slight gain, and on their fourth down they were unable to penetrate for a first down, and lost the ball to Columbus when within scoring distance.

Columbus got the ball out of the dangerous territory by kicking, but it was a short kick and they recovered it on Rushville's 35 yard territory. An end run gained 5 yards for them, and on the third down they fumbled but recovered and lost two yards. On their fourth down Columbus didn't make their distance and the ball went to Rushville on their own 35 yard line.

Rushville fumbled on their first two downs with no gain. On the third they made a 7 yard run, and on the fourth a forward pass to Sheplar was completed and the ball was on the 25 yard line for a first down.

On their first two downs they didn't gain, and on the third down the forward pass failed. On the fourth down a pass was made, and completed but it lacked a few inches of being over for a first down, and Rushville again lost an opportunity to score with the ball within 18 yards of their goal.

Columbus couldn't gain on three downs, and kicked out of danger on their fourth with the ball falling short in Rushville's territory and with Rushville in possession of it on their 35 yard line. Cross made a gain on a run, and carried the ball 7 yards. A plunge put the ball over for three more yards and a first down within 24 yards of their goal.

On the first down, a pass failed for Rushville. Sheplar broke through for a gain, and had the ball on the 18 yard line for a second down. A pass failed on the third down. On the fourth down a pass was made to Sheplar, who carried the ball over for a first down and within ten yards of the goal. On the next play a pass was made to Haywood, who carried the ball over the line for a touchdown. In the effort for a point after the touchdown, Rushville failed on a pass, which made the score Columbus 7 and Rushville 6. The Rushville team kicked off to Columbus, and the ball was in midfield in possession of the visitors when the half ended.

The third and fourth quarters saw the teams playing mostly in the center of the field, although both teams had an opportunity to score several times and were within close distance of their goals. The teams made many fumbles and exchanged first downs with each other several times during the last half. Columbus made more complete passes than Rushville, and Shaner did most of the ball toting for his team.

On Saturday afternoon of this week the locals play at Wilkinson, and have a good chance of winning this game, as Greenfield defeated Wilkinson last week 20 to 0, and previously had defeated Rushville 15 to 0. A week from Friday, October 14, Connersville will play here.

The line-up of the teams:

Columbus (7)		Rushville(6)
Trautman	LE	Ellingwood
Hill	LG	Lambert
Huffman	LT	Levi
Colter	C	Webb
Irvin	RE	Sheplar
Vogel	RG	Turner

ON THE SIDELINES

(By United Press)

Milwaukee, Wis.—Marquette University's golden avalanche planned to take a long, hard workout today in preparation for the Army game at West Point Saturday. Coach J. Frank Murray renewed his analysis of the mistakes the team made against Lawrence Saturday.

Minneapolis, Minn.— Scrimmage was on the program for the University of Minnesota eleven today. After a lengthy drill in diving at the tackling dummies and pushing the charging machine, Coach "Doc" Spears tried out some formations he handed out to the squad at "skull practice" last night.

South Bend, Ind.—Although the University of Detroit made a gallant stand against the Army team last Saturday, Notre Dame is not worried and considers the Detroit game next Saturday "in the bag" it was said here today.

Notre Dame is still pointing for 'the Navy Oct. 15," was the statement given out. Joe Prelli and Whitey Collins, injured backs, rejoined the squad today.

Chicago—Blame for the University of Chicago's defeat at the hands of Oklahoma last Saturday has been assumed by Coach A. A. Stagg. The gray-haired mentor said he was responsible for many errors made by the team, and hoped to get his team ready to beat Indiana Saturday. Today's workout stressed fundamentals.

Madison—Coach Glen Thistlethwaite has been shuffling up his football lineup at the University of Wisconsin and may use a new combination against Kansas Saturday. Art Mansfield, former back and end, has been placed at tackle. Several backfield combinations are being tried.

Evanston, Ill—Tackling dummies decked out as "Freddie Grimm" of Ohio State in scarlet and gray, and as "the Spirit of Utah" were receiving plenty of punishment from Northwestern football players." The Wildcats play Utah Saturday, but are pointing for Ohio State."

Champaign, Ill.—Fred Humbert, sophomore and Judson Timm halfback, have won permanent places on the Illinois team, it was evident here today. Coach Bob Zuppke is seeking a kicker to replace Frank Lanun and Frosty Peters. Both are lost to the team this season.

Iowa City, Ia—Development of a punter to strengthen the Hawkeyes outstanding weakness in last Saturday's game with Monmouth, and polishing of offensive plays will consume the major part of this week's program for his team, Coach Burt Ingersen indicated here yesterday. Skelly, regular quarterback last year, and Jessen, veteran guard, who were not in Saturday's game, will likely start against Ohio state.

Ann Arbor, Mich—Another secret practice session to strengthen Michigan's aerial weakness was on the cards for today Coach Weiman said. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the general showing of the team outside of the overhead department.

Columbus, O—Defense drills, in anticipation of a hard game with Iowa next week, were ordered by Coach Wilce here today. Wilce cautioned the men to expect one of the hardest games of the year and warned them overconfidence would lead to defeat.

PIRATES STRONGER IN VIEW OF FANS

Opinion Grows That World's Series Will Not be so Easy for Yankees as First Thought

HEAVY TICKET DEMAND

Intensity of Discussion Indicates Greater Interest Than in Any Post-Season Contest

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Pittsburgh, Pa. Oct. 4—A World Series which has surpassed all previous post-season championships is enticing the interest of the nation's baseball fans, if demand for tickets and intensity of discussion can be credited, is about to open in Pittsburgh.

Against the sombre background of Forbes Field, with its towering steel stands, its drab fences and new pine bleachers, the annual classic of the national pastime will be opened Wednesday afternoon.

While the New York Yankees, champions once more of the American League, continued to rule favorites at odds of 10 to 8, a feeling is growing among the b[illegible] hosts, that the Pittsburgh Pirates, winners in one of the most dramatic of National League Pennant races, have close to an even chance to win the world's championship.

This new feeling, found on the eve of the first game of the 1927 series, apparently is not born of sympathy with the under-dog. Nor is it entirely the product of a quite natural desire—in view of the many sporting upsets of the past two years—to take the short end of a porting bet.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, save for a couple of weak spots, can be estimated honestly as a great ball club

Prestige which the New York Yankees acquired in their run-away victory in the American League perhaps has dimmed the perception of a majority to the perfection of the Pirates.

With the arrival in Pittsburgh today of the hardy perennials of post-season series, men, managers and mentors of baseball who have been present at worlds championship battles of the past quarter-century, the balance of opinion which at first seemed overwhelmingly to favor the Yanks has swayed back until it seems that the ball club led by Donie Bush is regarded as having an excellent chance.

In a point of actual effectiveness, of averages based upon earned runs rather than games won and lost, these wise old heads of baseball point out, the Pirate pitching staff excells that of the American League champions.

In the heat of World Series strife, they continue, the left side of any infield is more important than the right—and certain "Pie" Traynor and Glenn Wright comprise a far sounder defense than Joe Dugan and Mark Koenig.

In the matter of catchers—and probably cold statistics never will show how many crucial games are won and lost by the man behind the bat—Pittsburgh rates better than New York.

In the outfield, providing Babe Ruth does not carry his home run fever into the series, there is little advantage on either side, for Paul and Lloyd Waner and phlegmatic Clyde Barnhart are a trio of ball players quite capable of holding their own with any opposition, especially in the stress of battle for a post-season championship.

A switch in opinion of this sort, even where one ball club has been considered to be enjoying every advantage, is by no means unusual to the national pastime— or to any other sporting event, for that matter.

Baseball men who have something upon which to base their opinions frequently are slow to express them.

It is the most hysterical, easily influenced type of fan who has devoted his time to shouting that the New York Yankees have such a strong attack that they cannot be put out.

The old-timers come into Pittsburgh with somewhat maturer opinions. This does not refer to National supporters alone.. There are men who have followed American League champions since the founding of the league who have come to the series declaring that it is the height of foolishness to count the New York Yankees "home" without a struggle.

Wise baseball men declare that sentiment which favors the Yanks overlooks the old adage that good pitching, more often than anything else, wins World Series.

One has only to draw a simple comparison of the respective pitching staffs: The Yankees—Waite Hoyt, Wiley Moore, Herb Pennock, Urban Shocker and Bob Shawkey; The Pirates—Remy Kremer, Carmen Hill, Vic Aldridge, Lee Meadows, and John Miljus.

The Pirates, these same wise baseball men declare, are stronger in the box.

What price a couple of stray home runs, then?

INDIANA SPORTS

Would Can Huddle System

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—The Huddle system of calling football signals is in a fair way to be discarded, if Coach Pat Page's first effort to return to the old method of calling signals from formation meets with the success he expects.

Page will not use the Huddle in the game against Chicago Saturday. If things go smoothly, he intends to have signals called for the rest of the season.

Pat declares that if cheer leaders, bands and noisy rooters would remain quiet long enough, the quarterbacks would call signals from regular formation. He explained that the 15 seconds given to form a huddle is not sufficient and sometimes results in misplays.

He declared himself vigorously opposed to the huddle system, comparing it with the stall used in basketball and the rain delay common to professional baseball games.

Heads Basketball League

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Cash Keller of Huntington yesterday was elected president of the Indiana Junior basketball association at its annual meeting here last night.

Gasoline Low Priced

"Despite that domestic consumption has multiplied by more than nine since 1913, gasoline makes a strong claim to be, by comparison with the general price level, our cheapest commodity of general and extended use."

"Taking 100 as the 1913 index figure for commodity prices, the 1926 index figure was 151, according to the U. S. Department of Labor statistics. That is, there has been an average advance of 51 per cent. Various groups, however, have been variously affected."

"... Then the ratio of increase tapers off, until at the bottom we find gasoline, its index figure 118.1."

"That is, while the index figure of all commodities advanced 51 points, and while some important groups advanced over 100, gasoline gained only 18 points."

THE paragraphs quoted are from an article by Judson C. Welliver appearing in the August issue of the American Review of Reviews.

This unique record of the petroleum industry stands as a tribute to science and efficiency.

In making gasoline the least expensive of commodities, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has done its share. Improved methods and processes have been developed in its scientific laboratories. Waste has been eliminated and efficiency promoted by its constant search for improvements.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) exists to serve the people of the Middle West and it has never wavered from that purpose. This faithfulness to an abiding ideal has earned for it the confidence of those whom it serves.

Every day gasoline of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) fuels millions of cars. The motorist is confident that the gasoline which flows into his tank from a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) pump will "deliver the goods" because it always is uniform in quality.

He has learned to trust the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for he has found its name a guarantee of quality. He knows that every gallon of gasoline it sells must carry on its reputation for integrity.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has helped to make gasoline not only one of the lowest priced commodities, as Mr. Welliver has shown it to be, but one of the most dependable as well.

Dependability is important, for gasoline—unlike most commodities—is mysterious to the average man, revealing little by its appearance.

No one can tell how it will work in a car by looking at it. But everyone knows how it will work in a car if it is the product of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The interest and responsibility of this Company does not stop with the sale of the gasoline.

It is a part of the service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to provide the people of the Middle West with gasoline whose performance they can depend upon—at the lowest possible price.

HOW MRS. WEAVER WAS HELPED

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

As Mrs. Weaver herself says, "I was never very strong." This is a mild statement describing her condition, for, according to her letters, she was subjected to no small amount of ill health. Fortunately, her sister was familiar with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged Mrs. Weaver to try it. "After three or four weeks," writes Mrs. Weaver, "I felt a great difference in myself. I would go to bed and sleep sound, and although I could not do very much work, I seemed stronger. I kept on taking it and now I am well and strong, do my work and take care of three children. I sure do tell my friends about your wonderful medicine, and I will answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—MRS. LAWRENCE WEAVER, East Smithfield St., Mt. Pleasant, Pa.

If you knew that thousands of women suffering from troubles similar to those you are enduring had improved their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, wouldn't you think it was worth a trial?

In some families, the fourth generation is learning the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN STRUCK BY I. & C. CAR

Lester Marshall of This County Suffers Crushed Chest And Internal Injuries

MAN FAINTS, BREAKS JAW

Lester Marshall of this county, living near Blue Ridge, was seriously injured Sunday night when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by an I. & C. traction car at a street crossing in Shelbyville. E. O. Hobbs, a newspaper man of Greensburg, who was a passenger on the interurban car enroute to Greensburg, stepped from the traction car to view the wreckage and at the sight of the blood, fell in a faint with his head striking the curb stone, and breaking his lower jaw bone.

Both injured men were taken to the hospital in Shelbyville, where they are patients. Marshall's condition is serious, with a crushed chest and internal injuries. He was driving a Ford sedan, and was accompanied by George N. Meal of Rush county, also a resident near Blue Ridge.

According to reports the machine is owned by Mr. Meal, who is said to have run down the street when the accident happened, and who had not appeared at Shelbyville Monday for his car or make inquiry concerning the injured man. Police of Shelbyville are investigating a report that the two men were drunk, and charges may be filed against them, it was stated.

the second man to head the board of works since Duvall took office 22 months ago, tendered his resignation, asking it "take effect at once."

Vandagrifft asserted that his resignation was "not an indirect admission of guilt," and declared it was not a matter of "quitting under fire." His official acts were not concerned in the "blue sky" law charge returned agains Vandagrifft. It related to his conduct as a trustee of the Electric Oil Well Rejuvenator company.

Linked with the shakeup was an uplifting of eyebrows over failure of councilman Boynton J. Moore to introduce his resolution of impeachment at the regular council meeting last night and uncertainty over whether it would be produced at the adjourned session tonight.

Boynton stoutly denied he knew nothing of the report that some council members were using the resolution as a club in an attempt to force Duvall to make certain changes.

But he admitted that some such motive may be in the minds of some of the councilmen. He promised that he would inquire into the vague reports and arranged to confer with some of the council members during the day.

Duvall was silent. Mrs. Duvall, whom he appointed as city controller, was busy in her office and said she was "attending to business us usual."

The storm breaking around the mayor's head has drawn from him only the statement that he is "sitting tight."

To demands by the City Manager League executive committee and one civic organization after another that he "help clear the city's name" by resigning, he has had but one reply:

Convicted of violating the corrupt practices act, he has maintained that he is still legally mayor of Indianapolis, until his intended appeal to the Indiana supreme court has failed, and not before. Arguments on a new trial are to be heard Saturday, and if it is denied, the appeal probably will be taken.

If he quit, Mrs. Duvall would succeed him.

No Comment by Gov. Jackson

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Until he has received formal notification of it, Gov. Ed Jackson said today that he would have no comment to offer on the resolution adopted by the Inidanapolis City Manager League Executive Committee, demanding he call a special session of the legislature to repeal the "Mayor Saviour" clause of the city manager law.

The committee asked repeal of the clause in order that the city manager form of government may be effective at once, thus ousting Mayor John L. Duvall, and his wife, who is city controller.

lities.

Peters' parting shot was a categorical assertion that he was not interested in the "fourteen points" contained in Gilliom's "bill of particulars." These points were the attorney general's listing of what he termed "insidious influences" in the democratic party, four dealing with the anti-saloon league and ten with the klan.

Peters' letter of reply, received by Gilliom today, contained three points. On these he said he based his lack of interest in Gilliom's charges.

They were, he told Gilliom:

"Your pre-election opinion that D. C. Stephenson could not be removed from prison to Indianapolis to testify.

"Your opinion at Vincennes on the eve of the last election that no prominent member of the state administration was contaminated by the influences against which you now inveigh.

"Your opinion expressed at a republican meeting at Lagrange this summer that the time would come when Gov. Ed Jackson's administration would be regarded as the greatest which Indiana has ever had."

NOTED SONG LEADER IS KILLED

W. E. M. Hackleman, Also Composer, Fatally Hurt In Auto Accident

Indianapolis, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—William E. M. Hackleman, 59, one of the foremost evangelist leaders of the United States, was fatally injured yesterday in an accident when the automobile in which he was riding was crowded off the road near St. Elmo, Ill., according to word received here.

Hackleman and Charles W. Daugherty, also of Indianapolis were on their way to Springfield, Ill., to attend a convention of Disciples of Christ when their small roadster was crowded off the road by a larger car. The roadster rolled over and landed upside down in a ditch. The other car did not stop.

Hackleman was nationally known, not only because of his leadership in evangelistic meetings, but as a composer and publisher of devotional music. "Gloria in Excelsis," is among the best known hymns.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Indianapolis Mayor Believed to Have Appeased City Council With Rapid Series of Changes

VIRGIL VANDAGRIFFT QUITS

Ten Officials Involved In Number of Elevations and Demotions Ordered by The Mayor

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Threatened by impeachment, mayor John L. Duvall was believed this afternoon to have appeased the city council by a rapid series of changes in his administration, involving ten officials.

The shakeup brought about elevations and demotions and resulted in a lineup regarded as more favorable t o the majority faction of the council.

The changes:

Virgil Vandagrifft, president of the board of works, resigned because of the indictment charging him with violating the state securities law.

Frank Cones, from board of works member to president of the board.

Charles L. Riddle, from assistant street commissioner to board of works member.

Robert F. McNay, from municipal garage superintendent at $3,000 a year to city sign inspector at $2,500.

Frank Haugham from sign inspector at $2,500 to assitant city building commissioner at $3,500.

W. A. Osborn, from assistant city building commissioner to private life. He resigned to take a better job.

William Hamilton, former municipal garage superintendent, appointed city street commissioner.

Ray Seibert, from municipal garage foreman to superintendent.

Emmanuel Wetter, appoited bookkeeper for board of works, succeeding Ralph Boyer.

Ray Daggett, named municipal garage foreman.

Haugham is father-in-law and Seibert a brother-in-law of councilman Boynton J. Moore who had been threatening to introduce a resolution of impeachment.

As a result, the changes not only added to Duvall's reputation as an "up-and-down" mayor, but also as an "in-law executive."

Because, he said, he did not wish his recent indictment under the state securities law to "visit a part of my misfortune on the people of Indianapolis," Vandagrifft, who was

EMPLOYER-EMPLOYE RELATIONS DISCUSSED

Theme For Rotary Club Speakers at Business Methods Meeting Held At Noon Session

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS PLAY

The relations between employers and employes was discussed at the noon luncheon of the Rotary club at the Odd Fellows temple, with George Wiltse, chairman of the club's business method committee, in charge of the program. The general outline of suggestions for discussion by employers, as arranged by Rotary International, was followed.

The musical part of the program was provided by John Neutzenhelzer and Harry Spanagel, two high school boys who played two clarinet duets, with piano accompaniment by Miss Burla Cato. Both their numbers were received with warm applause.

The speakers on the program were Floyd Kirklin; Robert Pierce, Frank Mullins, Will O. Feudner and Louis Mauzy. Various phases of the employer-employe question were discussed with profit to the members of the club. Unfair trade practices will be taken up at a future business methods meeting.

Walter Hubbard of Indianapolis, a former member of the Rushville club, and Mr. Stansbury of Indianapolis were the only guests present.

EDUCATION BOARD ELECT OFFICERS

Organization is Completed for Year and Many Questions Effecting Schools are Discussed

TO CO-OPERATE ON CIRCUS

Trustees Also Plan for Schools to Take Part in Corn Show—Other Plans are Approved

The Rush County Board of Education, composed of the twelve township trustees held their October meeting Monday afternoon in the county superintendent's office, and re-elected the same officers for the ensuing year, with the board being headed by H. M. Cowing, Rushville township, as president.

Several important business matters came before the meeting after the election of officers. Others who were re-elected for the coming year were J. C. Power of Anderson township, vice president; Harold Beale of Richland as recording secretary and Alonzo Sheedy of Walker township as corresponding secretary.

B. D. Farthing, county superintendent, appointed six committees to function during the ensuing year and these committees include those for business, attendance, educational, vocational, special activities, special subjects, transportation, rules and regulations.

The trustees discussed plans for the Indoor Circus and a program for the schools was arranged and approved by the board, with each township having a part on the program at the circus.

Corn show plans also were discussed at this time, and plans were made to take part in the corn show by having the various schools cooperate. The trustees were also reminded of the Teachers' Retirement law, which makes it necessary for a certain percent of the wages of a teacher to be deducted during the school year for that fund. The deductions will come with the payment of the second, fourth and sixth months pay, and the average for a teacher in this county will be $32 a year.

The board approved the plan of the teachers attending the state meeting at Indianapolis October 20 and 21, and also approved a school visiting day program in which the teachers, especially the younger ones, will be given an opportunity of visiting in some other school and observe how an experienced school teacher conducts classes.

The county board also favored the plan of a parent-teachers association in each township and arrangements will be made to have a representative of the state association speak to the board at their next meeting, concerning plans for making township orgaizations here.

The board also expressed an interest in landscape gardening for school grounds, and a visit sometime during the school year is contemplated by the trustees and principals to sections in Indiana where the school yards have been transformed into a beautiful scenic affect. The agricultural classes in the township schools are interested in this work, and will assist in completing the details.

EXTRADICTION PAPERS DENIED

Ohio Governor Refuses To Honor Requisition of Xenia Man

Sheriff L. M. Coons, who went to Columbus, O., Monday to hear the decree of the governor in the matter of obtaining extradition papers for D. Nelson James, wanted here for embezzlement, returned late Monday without the prisoner, and the extradition petition was refused.

The Ohio man, who lives in Xenia, was wanted here on an embezzlement charge, and the Ohio governor heard the evidence Saturday. He gave his opinion Monday, and ruled that because the contract with a stock remedy company was made in Ohio that the contract was binding only as it related to that state, and did not apply for violations done in Indiana. He is charged here with having erased the name from checks, and substituted his own name instead of the firm.

Ferocious Animals For Indoor Circus To Be Sent By Express From St. Louis

Confirmation of Order Received After Negotiations With Cincinnati Zoo Failed. Extra Precautions to be Taken to Prevent Stampede During Wild Beast Act. Sideshows Will be Under One Large Tent Near Gymnasium

Plans are fast taking shape for the Rush County Indoor Circus to be staged at the Rushville high school gymnasium Thursday and Friday nights, October 13 and 14, following a general meeting Monday night at which directors of departments reported on the progress made and group meetings for the various acts were held.

Arrangements were completed last night for advertising the circus in all of the schools of the county, one speaker being assigned to each school. Every school will be visited next Monday morning and the time allotted at each for a short talk about the circus will be 8:30 to 8:45 o'clock.

The schedule of speakers was prepared as follows: Milroy, H. B. Allman; Center, Will Leach; Jackson, B. D. Farthing; New Salem, John A. Titsworth; Moscow, Omer Trusler; Arlington, A. L. Gary; Richland, Lon Moore; Carthage, Will P. Jay; Circleville, Charles F. Wilson; Webb Will O. Feudner; Glenwood, Charles F. Taylor; Gings, Fred Brown; Homer, John Perkins; Manilla, Warder Wyatt; Raleigh, Hugh E. Mauzy.

Dusty Miller went to the gymnasius this morning to look over the location for his high diving dog act. The act has been embellished since being given at the Rush county free fair and will be one of the stellar attractions of the circus. Dot, his famous diving dog, now jumps a hurdle before leaving the top of the ladder.

Thursday night, when the first performance will be given, promises to be the best because all of the actors and the animals will be on their mettle to put the circus over in big syle. Furthemore, the big street parade will be staged only on the opening night.

An additional attraction the opening night will be a balloon ascensio in the downtown district just preceding the paarde, scheduled for six o'clock.

The parade will form down town and move through the business district to the gymnasium. Some of the animal cages will be closed during the parade because, true to circus traditions, the whole show can't be exhibited free of charge.

The sideshows will be housed under one large tent just east of the gymnasium and a mammoth show will be given, all of the price of ten cents, the committee in charge has decided. The sideshows will be in charge of Dusty Miller, and Bill Jay the first night, and the second night they will have the assistance of Ray Compton.

Confirmation of the order for twenty-four ferocious animals was received today. The animals will come from the Forest Park Zoo, St. Louis, Mo., instead of the Cincinnati Zoo, as originally intended. Negotiations could not be successfully closed with the Cincinnati Zoo officials, it is stated, for the use of the trained wild beasts, and the committee turned to the St. Louis Zoo, with excellent results. The animals will be shipped by express, according to confirmation received today.

The executive committee sent out an S. O. S. today for some good bright No. 1 timothy hay for the

WILL CASE EVIDENCE IS NOW BEING PRESENTED

Witnesses in Case Seeking to Contest Will of Phoebe Phillips, Take Stand Today

JURY SELECTED LATE MONDAY

The case of Ada L. Wissing and others against Edward N. Phillips and others, a suit objecting to the probate of the will of Phoebe A. Phillips, was under way today in the circuit court with the introduction of witnesses by the plaintiff.

A jury was obtained late Monday and the case started at that time with the opening statement being made, and a few witnesses used. The case will require several days for trial, as a great many witnesses are called for the case.

A jury, which is hearing the suit is composed of Fred Bills, Rex Readle, Don C. Brooks; Charles B. Wilson, Walter Rhodes, William Weingarth, Glenn Griffin, George Hardesty, Dale Stevens, William S. McKee, George Wiltse and Paul Phillips.

The action is an affair between children and heirs of the deceased who during her life time lived in Arlington, and the plaintiffs are attempting to prevent the will from being offered to probate, which is practically the same as seeking to have the will set aside.

GERMAN PLANE IN ATLANTIC FLIGHT

Junkers Seaplane, G-24, Starts Air Voyage by Way of Azores and New Foundland

SECOND PLANE MAY FOLLOW

Severa Company, Backers, Hopes to Prove Regular Trans-Atlantic Air Service Feasible

Norderney, Frisian Islands, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—The Junkers seaplane, G-24 started a transAtlantic flight via the Azores Islands at 4:45 P. M. today.

It was announced that the G-24 would halt for fuel at Lisbon; Fayal, Azores Island; and New Foundland and then would proceed to New York.

The plane is piloted by Fritz Loose, who steered one of the two Junkers land planes on their recent unsuccessful Atlantic hop; and Starke, and Loewe, two Severa Company pilots. A mechanic, Rudolph Flitther accompanies them.

The Severa Company which owns the Junkers plane, planned to make the flight a tandem one if the G-24 succeeded. A second plane was to follow in its tracks, in order to demonstrate the company's belief in the feasibility of regular trans-Atlantic air service via the Azores and New Foundland—admitted by experts to be the most practicable route.

The G-24 reached Norderney—an Island in the Frisian group that skirts the North Sea coast of Germany—last night.

It was planned to start early today but the sea was rough and the weather unpromising.

Weather reports early today were favorable.

The plane is equipped with wireless sending and receiving apparatus. It is a powerful machine, with three motors.

The flight is understood to be subsidized and controlled by the government ministry of transportation, although the plane is privately owned and ostensibly the flight is private.

Woman Aboard Plane

Berlin Oct. 4—(U.P.)—It was said today upon apparently reliable authority that Mlle. Lilly Dillenz, described as a Viennese actress, was aboard the Junkers seaplane that started a trans-Atlantic flight today from Norderney Island.

The United Press so far had been unable to confirm the statement.

Levine Makes Forced Landing

Rome, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Charles A. Levine and his pilot, Capt. W. R. G. Hinchcliffe, made a forced landing on the outskirts of Rome late today.

The plane was slightly damaged. Levine, Hinchcliffe, and Prince Louis Ferdinand of Bourbon, who was to be a passenger on a flight to Bucharest, Rumania, were not injured.

Engine trouble forced the landing.

President of Cuba Signs Bill To Restrict Sugar Production

Havana, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—A $50,000,000 blow at America's sweet tooth was struck today when President Machado signed a bill providing for restriction of sugar production if necessary to guarantee profits to Cuban producers.

Sugar experts estimated that the bill, if its powers were used by the president and the five experts named to work under him, would boost the price of sugar in the United States ½ cent a pound.

Creating a government-controlled export company, the bill provides heavy tariffs for sugar produced in excess of amounts to be allotments of the capital in Cuban sugar is American and American financiers would benefit by any price boosting.

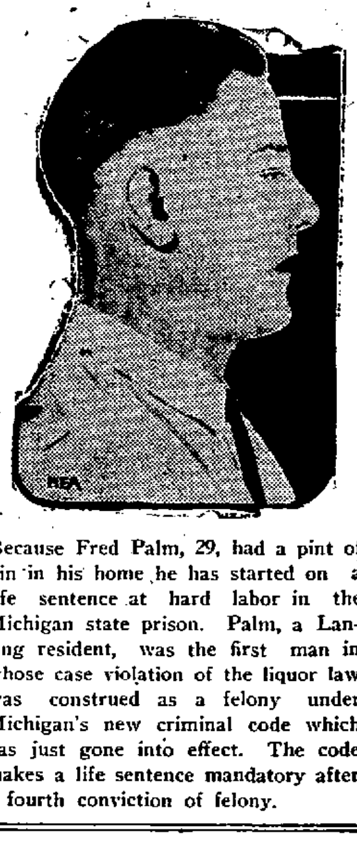
LIFE TERM FOR GIN



Because Fred Palm, 29, had a pint of gin in his home he has started on a life sentence at hard labor in the Michigan state prison. MEXICAN REBEL LEADER EXECUTED

Death of General Serrano, Co-leader of Revolt Against President Calles Announced

CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

His Execution Would Mean Government Scored Important Victory in the Rebellion

Mexico City, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—General Jose Alvarez, chief of staff of President Calles, announced at 1:30 a. m. today that General Francisco Serrano, alleged co-leader of the military revolt, was executed with 14 followers near Cuernavaca Monday morning.

Serrano is a candidate for the presidency against General Alvaro Obregon, whose candidacy President Calles is understood to favor.

His execution would mean that the government has scored a most important victory in the revolt.

Admitting the extent of the revolt of troops in the Mexico City garrison, but claiming the revolt had failed, President Calles in a statement Monday night said subordinates as well as commanding officers of the revolting troops were reporting back to duty.

Calles' statement said 800 men under general Almada left their barracks and took over the road to Texoco, 15 miles outside the capital, where airplane scouts reported them to be concentrated Monday.

"The rebels did not dare to combat the federals of the Mexico City garrison," Calles commented.

"Fortunately," he added, "this movement can be considered a failure in view of the fact that great numbers of commanding officers and subordinates have been reporting back to their barracks.

"I am not able to state that the rebel group, consisting of four battalions, does not at the present moment surpass 800 men."

GILLIOM-PETERS DISPUTE IS ENDED

State Democratic Chairman First Replies To Attorney General's "Bill of Particulars"

EVADED ISSUE, RETORT

Gilliom Asserts That Indiana Political Leader Failed In Correspondence to Answer Question

By WILLIAM E. HALLBERG
(U. P. Staff Corresponcent)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Democratic state chairman R. Earl Peters and Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom appeared today to have written a period to their pre-election correspondence, each satisfied that he had acquitted himself well.

But first Peters made his reply to Gilliom's "bill of particulars" of what the attorney general had charged was democratic alliance with the Ku Klux Klan and the Indiana Anti-Saloon league. In this answer, Gilliom was told that Peters was not interested in his "conjectures and conclusions."

Gilliom retaliated today by reasserting that Peters had evaded the issue. The heat of previous exchanges was lacking from the last words of each and observers came to the conclusion that the week's skirmishing was ended.

It ended right where it started, acording to Gilliom, for he maintained Peters did not answer the chief question.

The question, Gilliom stated, was:

"Does the democratic party disown the Ku Klux Klan and the Anti-Salon league by name?"

Gilliom insisted that his sole purpose in carrying on the long range debate btween Fort Wayne and Indianapolis was to persuade Peters to denounce the klan and anti-saloon league.

This, he asserted, Peters evaded.

"I am," Gilliom told the United Press, "no less interested in having the democratic party denounce these insidious influences' by name than in having the republican party denounce them. My hope is that both will take an out-and-out stand in opposition."

Gilliom indicated that even though his discussion with Peters is closed, he intends to continue trying to pry loose what he says is the hold of the klan and anti-saloon league on po-

COMMISSIONERS PASS ON NEW HEATING PLANT

Accept it After Receiving Approval of Heating Engineers and Pay the Claim

CONTRACTS ARE AWARDED

After receiving the official approval of the heating engineers, Bevington and Williams, the new court house heating plant was passed by the county board of commissioners Monday afternoon and a claim for the amount due the contractor was allowed, with the exception of a small percent held in reserve for a certain period as provided by law.

The plant was installed during the past summer to replace the old plant, in use twelve years, which almost entirely failed last winter.

The commissioners also awarded county poor infirmary contracts at their Monday afternoon session as follows: Groceries, Charles C. Brown; men's shoes, E. J. Knecht; meat, Ed Haywood; women's shoes, the Mauzy Co.; dry goods, the Guffin Dry Goods store. The contract for providing coal at the court house and jail was awarded to the Frazee Coal and Lumber Co.

The board accepted the bids of Carroll Pitts and Calvin Hungerford to furnish gravel at fifty cents a yard.

The bond of Lowell Dyer of Ripley township as assistant highway superintendent was approved by the commissioners. He was appointed by the county highway superintendent, Ota Newhouse, to succeed his father John Dyer.

These hogs are Col. and Pathmaster breeding. All hogs are vaccinated against cholera.

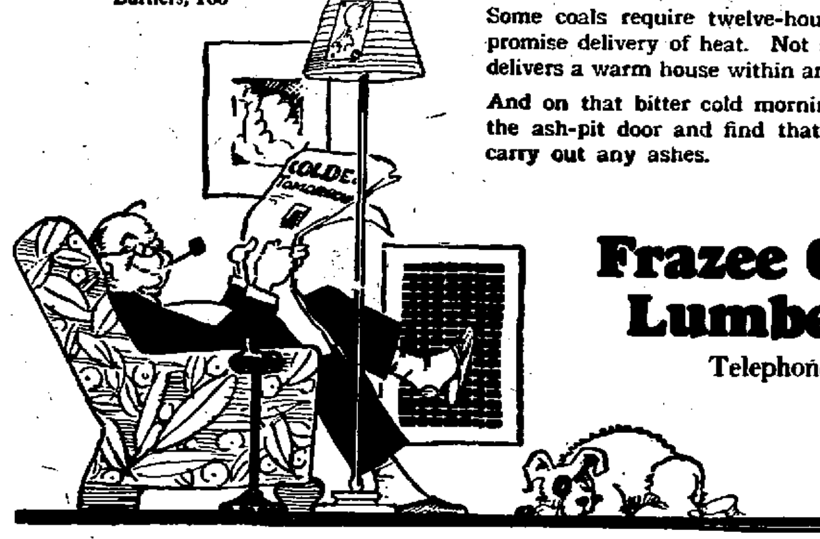
Heat When You Want It

Save—Keep Warm
With Anchor—
The Furnace Coal

Good For Stoves and
Burners, Too



YOU aren't going to fire up your furnace, if it's warm today, just because the paper says, "colder tomorrow."

But if tomorrow morning it really is cold—then you want heat in a hurry.

Some coals require twelve-hour notice before they promise delivery of heat. Not so with Anchor—it delivers a warm house within an hour of firing.

And on that bitter cold morning it's a joy to open the ash-pit door and find that you won't have to carry out any ashes.

BIBLE THOUGHT —FOR TODAY—

[illegible] Thoughts memorized, will prove a priceless heritage in after years.

Our Response: O sing unto the Lord a new song; for He hath done marvelous things: His right hand, and His holy arm hath gotten Him the victory. Psalm 98:1

Prayer: Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord, Jesus Christ.

Is Civilization Declining?

People who feel that civilization is on the decline and that decay has set in, should be reminded that the deeds of the few which are reprehensible do not represent the lives of the vast majority of the people. Most of us are apt to reach hasty conclusions based on insufficient evidence, in any discussions on the trend of the times.

One grievous error commonly made is to forget that New York City is not the entire United States; neither is Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco or any other large center of population in the country. Folks who live in urban environment are apt to make the mistake of concluding that the large cities are representative of the whole land, and their views influence to some extent those living in rural districts.

If there is any sign of decay in our cities, as many believe, it should not be taken too seriously, for it is not general decline so much as prominent sore spots. Too often people are undernourished by the poor feeding of the writers and the artists, and today perhaps we are suffering from malpractice in literature and art. The moving picture has given opportunity for such malpractice, but that is no argument for abandonment or curtailing of literature, art or the moving picture.

When men of the present generation were boys, the dime novel was blamed for the ruination of the young, but judging from the achievements of the last quarter of a century, some of them came through in very good shape.

The crime wave or the manifestations of immorality are not nearly so serious as the lack of interest shown in the affairs of government. There seems to be a most decided determination on the part of the voters not to cast their votes for one of the elite, if he is not what is generally known as a good mixer.

When the competency of a man to fill office is made secondary to his good fellowship, we are treading on dangerous ground; when the best vote getter is the best fellow and an habitual joiner, we need not expect more than we have been receiving in the matter of responsibility to the people in public office holders.

This looks like the democratic spirit carried to the extreme and it means that we are in for many more political blunders if the voters do not awaken to their responsibilities and come to a realization that honesty, integrity and ability should be the yard stick by which to measure a candidate for public office.

Silent Cities

Men who bewail the noise, the ugliness and the confusion of the present industrial order may find much that is comforting in recent announcements of what designers of machinery are accomplishing.

A few weeks ago there was widespread comment over certain developments suddenly recognized in manufacturing. Persons of artistic sense asserted that the manufacturers of a number of popular products were building beauty as well as utility into the machines they sold. The phonograph, the radio the automobile, it was pointed out, had in their earliest days been constructed with only the idea of utility in mind. Now many of these things have become delights to the eye.

At the Chemical Industries Exposition held in New York a further development of this idea was demonstrated. The ear, engineers appear to have decided, need no longer be outraged by the grindings and clashings of machinery. Therefore, they have developed and are showing nonmetal gears and wheels which mesh and turn and perform their functions in quiet. Soon, it is promised, we shall see the day when the machines and the factories of modern civilization are not only beautiful to see but silent. That is a distant but a cheering prediction for the noise-worn city dweller.

A Job for the States

Investment bankers of the country, meeting at Seattle, are on firm ground in opposing federal legislation of the "blue-sky" order to regulate the sale of securities. Their opposition cannot be attributed to commercial motives, since they have been among the most active advocates of state laws for the protection of investors, and obviously hese legitimate dealers have much to gain by the removal of fraudulent securities from the market.

They point out that the federal trade commission already possesses considerable jurisdiction over the peddlers of fake stocks and bonds or persons who make false representations for the purpose of selling securities. Eight orders were issued last month against promoters engaged in this sort of interstate commerce. The great need, in the opinion of the investment bankers, is for a uniform law to be adopted by the states.

In spite of the pressure, to date none of the more advanced specialists has ever actually prescribed a cigaret for laryngitis.

Idleness wears out many men and much machinery, and also has a sad tendency to age a last winter's felt hat.

The New York stock exchange is rushing construction work forward on its annex, or sheepfold.

Tell us your attitude toward the approach of Christmas, and we'll tell you how old you are.

We feel fairly secure at this time in announcing that Mr. Lowden does not choose to run.

Every week has too many nights to stay up late on all of them.

There seems to be money in too many things besides working.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
October 4, 1912

Miss Nora Geraghty, linotype operator at the Daily Republican office caught the first three fingers of her right hand between the mould wheel and the slug-cutting knives in the vice of the machine today and they were painfully mashed.

William Howard Winslow, eldest son of Rev. and Mrs. Charles S. Winslow of Carthage, and Miss Ione Morris were married at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morris, at Azalia.

It required but little over an hour to the evidence in the injunction suit of Phillip Miler against the city ot be introduced in the circuit court this afternoon, and immediately afterwards, Judge Blair announced he would enjoin the city from selling and installing electric supplies.

Mrs. Hugh Mauzy was a visitor in Indianapolis today.

Ben Oster, driving the Rushville Telephone Company's auto truck went in the ditch this morning in East Eleventh street when the ball-joint on the steering apparatus broke at a point where it was supposed to have been brazed. Otto Busard was with Oster and both escaped injury.

Mrs. Charles A. White of New Brunswick, New Jersey, is the guest of her brother, James Young and family in East Third street.

The second annual Fall Festival and Horse Show opened at Milroy yesterday afternoon. The crowd on the opening day exceeded the expectations of the promoters and success of the affair is assured.

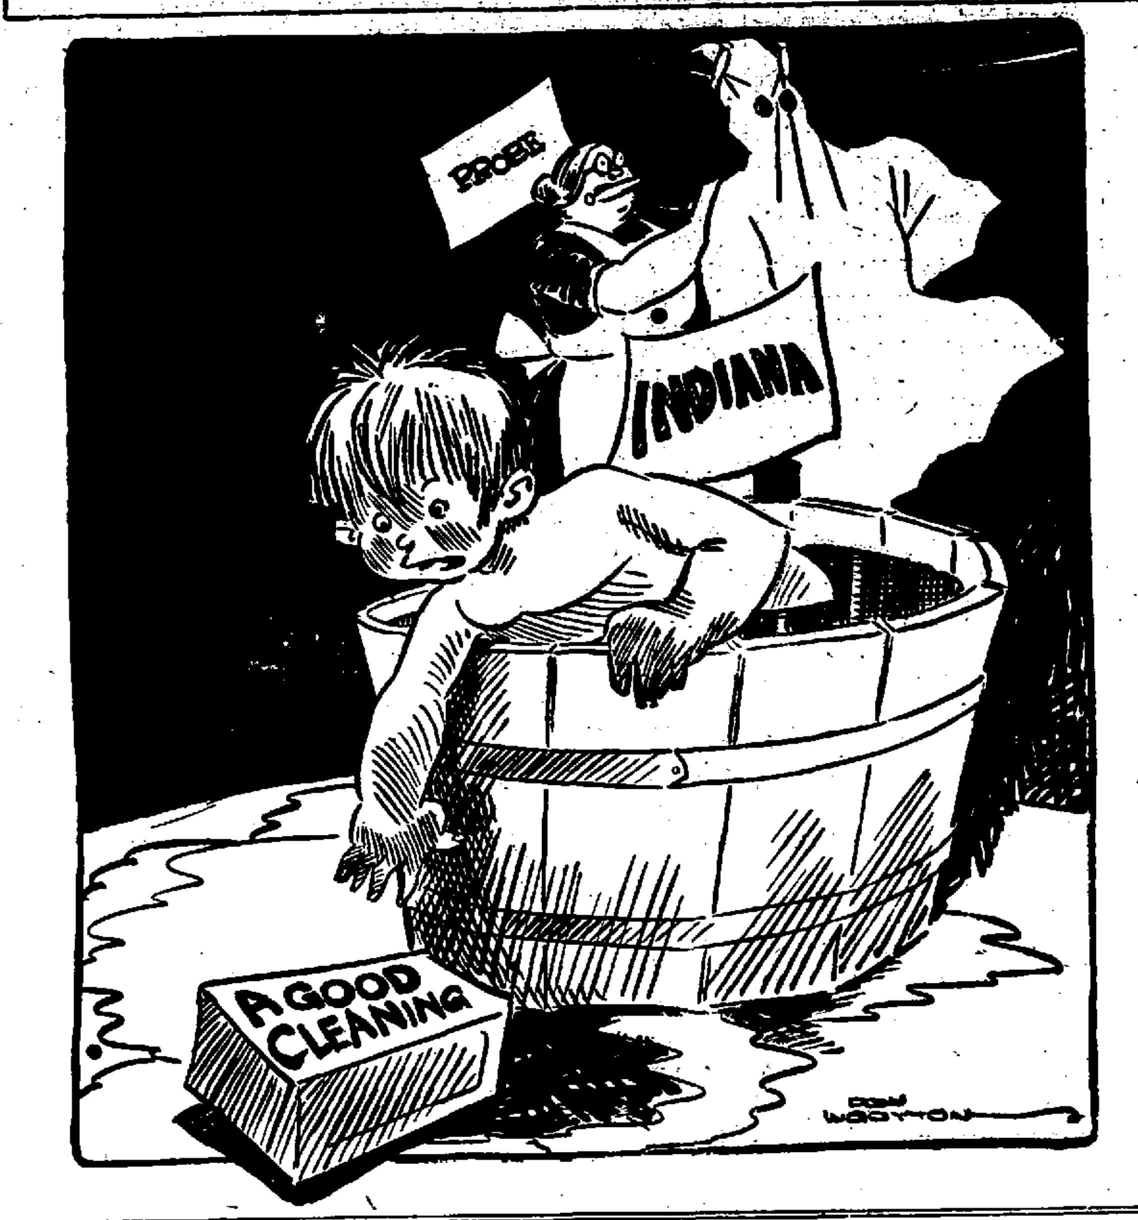
Walter Beeringer and family have moved from the Cullen farm west of the city to the Hackleman property in North Harrison street.

The first annual sale of B. F. Perry's pure bred Duroc Jersey swine, held at Falmouth yesterday, was a big success, both financially and from the stand-point of a crowd with their quaint remarks during the crying of the sale.

It required a special train of eight cars to haul a shipment of hogs which Fred Bell, a prosperous farmer living northeast of here, sold to Swift & Company. This is believed to be the largest sale of hogs ever made by one man in Rush county.

The first meeting of Mrs. May W. Donnan's study class will be held in the Graham school building. The special subject for this series of lectures is Shakespeare. Mrs. Donnan's lectures can always be depended on to show individuality and a clear, fresh point of view. Wherever she goes she is accorded the highest measure of praise for her admirable scholarship, painstaking thoroughness and pleasing manner.

HE WON'T BE HAPPY TILL HE GETS IT



WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Politicians will believe anything.

They seldom agree on anything with unanimity, but here are some of the things some of them believe:

That Governor Al Smith is the strongest candidate the Democrats could possibly run and is the only man who can win.

That Al's nomination would be a frightful boner and that he would run millions of votes behind any nice, respectable, dry Democrat.

That President Coolidge, either because of his own desire or that of others, or both, is definitely out of next year's presidential race.

That President Coolidge will be "drafted" by a worried party which feels that he is by far its safest candidate.

That Herbert Hoover can't possibly win because he doesn't fit with the politicians and can't gain enough strength in farm regions and the east.

That Hoover is riding on a rising tide of popularity among the business men and the people which will easily give him a majority at the convention.

THEY'RE sure:

That Jim Reed is the strongest Democratic candidate because he is bound to inherit the Smith strength when Smith definitely fails to break through the two-thirds rule.

That Jim hasn't a chance because he's wet, because the farmers are sore at him and because he deserted Woodrow Wilson.

That Frank Lowden knows he can't win with his prospective bloc of farm state delegates and that he will bequeath them to Dawes as soon as he has had a brief fling at the convention.

That Lowden has a chance to win because—(well, come to think of it, nobody really believes this one).

That Charles Evans Hughes will be nominated with the support of Andy Mellon, the eastern Republicans, the international bankers and the Standard Oil Company.

That Hughes won't be nominated because the electorate knows he has the support of Andy Mellon, the international bankers and the Standard Oil Company.

That Smith can carry New York, Massachusetts and Illinois against the Republican candidate.

That Smith can't carry Massachusetts and Illinois in any event and couldn't beat Hughes in New York.

COLUMBUS WINS BY POINT MARGIN

Scoring Extra Point After Touchdown Enables Visitors To Carry Home Football Victory

ALL SCORING FIRST HALF

Both Teams Count With Forward Passes, Each Showing Proficiency In The Aerial Department

Columbus high school won a football contest from the Rushville high school, 7 to 6, in a game played here Monday afternoon, when both teams appeared to be well matched, and neither was able to score in the last half.

Columbus made their touchdown soon atfer the game opened. They kicked off to Rushville, but with a couple of penalties the locals lost ground and kicked, with Columbus recovering tne ball on their own 40 yard line. They made their gains on three downs and earned a first down on the 30 yard line. On their first, they were penalized 5 yards, but on the second a forward pass was made to Shaner, who carried the ball over for a six point lead.

In the play for a point after the touchdown, another pass was completed with Irvin making the catch, and puting the score 7 to 0. The play had only been going on a few minutes.

The Columbus team then kicked off to Rushville on the visitors 35 yard line. The locals carried the ball to midfield on the next play, but were unable to gain another first down, by a few inches, and lost the ball to Columbus near Rushville's 40 yard line.

Play was kept in the center of the field with both teams having possession of the ball until near the end of the quarter when Rushville took the ball down into their own territory and was within 15 yards of the goal.

With play resumed in the second quarter Rushville had the ball on their first down within 15 yards of their goal. On their first down they lost a couple of yards, but gained it back on a pass to Sheplar, with 7 yards yards to go for a first down and only 17 yards from their goal. A third down brought a slight gain, and on their fourth down they were unable to penetrate for a first down, and lost the ball to Columbus when within scoring distance.

Columbus got the ball out of the dangerous territory by kicking, but it was a short kick and they recovered it on Rushville's 35 yard territory. An end run gained 5 yards for them, and on the third down they fumbled but recovered and lost two yards. On their fourth down Columbus didn't make their distance and the ball went to Rushville on their own 35 yard line.

Rushville fumbled on their first two downs with no gain. On the third they made a 7 yard run, and on the fourth a forward pass to Sheplar was completed and the ball was on the 25 yard line for a first down.

On their first two downs they didn't gain, and on the third down the forward pass failed. On the fourth down a pass was made, and completed but it lacked a few inches of being over for a first down, and Rushville again lost an opportunity to score with the ball within 18 yards of their goal.

Columbus couldn't gain on three downs, and kicked out of danger on their fourth with the ball falling short in Rushville's territory and with Rushville in possession of it on their 35 yard line. Cross made a gain on a run, and carried the ball 7 yards. A plunge put the ball over for three more yards and a first down within 24 yards of their goal.

On the first down, a pass failed for Rushville. Sheplar broke through for a gain, and had the ball on the 18 yard line for a second down. A pass failed on the third down. On the fourth down a pass was made to Sheplar, who carried the ball over for a first down and within ten yards of the goal. On the next play a pass was made to Haywood, who carried the ball over the line for a touchdown. In the effort for a point after the touchdown, Rushville failed on a pass, which made the score Columbus 7 and Rushville 6. The Rushville team kicked off to Columbus, and the ball was in midfield in possession of the visitors when the half ended.

The third and fourth quarters saw the teams playing mostly in the center of the field, although both teams had an opportunity to score several times and were within close distance of their goals. The teams made many fumbles and exchanged first downs with each other several times during the last half. Columbus made more complete passes than Rushville, and Shaner did most of the ball toting for his team.

On Saturday afternoon of this week the locals play at Wilkinson, and have a good chance of winning this game, as Greenfield defeated Wilkinson last week 20 to 0, and previously had defeated Rushville 15 to 0. A week from Friday, October 14, Connersville will play here.

The line-up of the teams:

Columbus (7)		Rushville(6)
Trautman	LE	Ellingwood
Hill	LG	Lambert
Huffman	LT	Levi
Colter	C	Webb
Irvin	RE	Sheplar
Vogel	RG	Turner
Payne	RT	Christopher

ON THE SIDELINES

(By United Press)

Milwaukee, Wis.—Marquette University's golden avalanche planned to take a long, hard workout today in preparation for the Army game at West Point Saturday. Coach J. Frank Murray renewed his analysis of the mistakes the team made against Lawrence Saturday.

Minneapolis, Minn.— Scrimmage was on the program for the University of Minnesota eleven today. After a lengthy drill in diving at the tackling dummies and pushing the charging machine, Coach "Doc" Spears tried out some formations he handed out to the squad at "skull practice" last night.

South Bend, Ind.—Although the University of Detroit made a gallant stand against the Army team last Saturday, Notre Dame is not worried and considers the Detroit game next Saturday "in the bag" it was said here today.

Notre Dame is still pointing for "the Navy Oct. 15," was the statement given out. Joe Prelli and Whitey Collins, injured backs, rejoined the squad today.

Chicago—Blame for the University of Chicago's defeat at the hands of Oklahoma last Saturday has been assumed by Coach A. A. Stagg. The gray-haired mentor said he was responsible for many errors made by the team, and hoped to get his team ready to beat Indiana Saturday. Today's workout stressed fundamentals.

Madison—Coach Glen Thistlethwaite has been shuffling up his football lineup at the University of Wisconsin and may use a new combination against Kansas Saturday. Art Mansfield, former back and end, has been placed at tackle. Several backfield combinations are being tried.

Evanston, Ill—Tackling dummies decked out as "Freddie Grimm" of Ohio State in scarlet and gray, and as "the Spirit of Utah" were receiving plenty of punishment from Northwestern football players." The Wildcats play Utah Saturday, but are pointing for Ohio State."

Champaign, Ill.—Fred Humbert, sophomore and Judson Timm halfback, have won permanent places on the Illinois team, it was evident here today. Coach Bob Zuppke is seeking a kicker to replace Frank Lanun and Frosty Peters. Both are lost to the team this season.

Iowa City, Ia—Development of a punter to strengthen the Hawkeyes outstanding weakness in last Saturday's game with Monmouth, and polishing of offensive plays will consume the major part of this week's program for his team, Coach Burt Ingersen indicated here yesterday. Skelly, regular quarterback last year, and Jessen, veteran guard, who were not in Saturday's game, will likely start against Ohio state.

Ann Arbor, Mich—Another secret practice session to strengthen Michigan's aerial weakness was on the cards for today Coach Weiman said. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the general showing of the team outside of the overhead department.

Columbus, O—Defense drills, in anticipation of a hard game with Iowa next week, were ordered by Coach Wilce here today. Wilce cautioned the men to expect one of the hardest games of the year and warned them overconfidence would lead to defeat.

PIRATES STRONGER IN VIEW OF FANS

Opinion Grows That World's Series Will Not be so Easy for Yankees as First Thought

HEAVY TICKET DEMAND

Intensity of Discussion Indicates Greater Interest Than in Any Post-Season Contest

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Pittsburgh, Pa. Oct. 4—A World Series which has surpassed all previous post-season championships is enticing the interest of the nation's baseball fans, if demand for tickets and intensity of discussion can be credited, is about to open in Pittsburgh.

Against the sombre background of Forbes Field, with its towering steel stands, its drab fences and new pine bleachers, the annual classic of the national pastime will be opened Wednesday afternoon.

While the New York Yankees, champions once more of the American League, continued to rule favorites at odds of 10 to 8, a feeling is growing among the b[illegible] hosts, that the Pittsburgh Pirates, winners in one of the most dramatic of National League Pennant races, have close to an even chance to win the world's championship.

This new feeling, found on the eve of the first game of the 1927 series, apparently is not born of sympathy with the under-dog. Nor is it entirely the product of a quite natural desire—in view of the many sporting upsets of the past two years—to take the short end of a sporting bet.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, save for a couple of weak spots, can be estimated honestly as a great ball club

Prestige which the New York Yankees acquired in their run-away victory in the American League perhaps has dimmed the perception of a majority to the perfection of the Pirates.

With the arrival in Pittsburgh today of the hardy perennials of post-season series, men, managers and mentors of baseball who have been present at worlds championship battles of the past quarter-century, the balance of opinion which at first seemed overwhelmingly to favor the Yanks has swayed back until it seems that the ball club led by Donie Bush is regarded as having an excellent chance.

In a point of actual effectiveness, of averages based upon earned runs rather than games won and lost, these wise old heads of baseball point out, the Pirate pitching staff excells that of the American League champions.

In the heat of World Series strife, they continue, the left side of any infield is more important than the right—and certain "Pie" Traynor and Glenn Wright comprise a far sounder defense than Joe Dugan and Mark Koenig.

In the matter of catchers—and probably cold statistics never will show how many crucial games are won and lost by the man behind the bat—Pittsburgh rates better than New York.

In the outfield, providing Babe Ruth does not carry his home run fever into the series, there is little advantage on either side, for Paul and Lloyd Waner and phlegmatic Clyde Barnhart are a trio of ball players quite capable of holding their own with any opposition, especially in the stress of battle for a post-season championship.

A switch in opinion of this sort, even where one ball club has been considered to be enjoying every advantage, is by no means unusual to the national pastime— or to any other sporting event, for that matter.

Baseball men who have something upon which to base their opinions frequently are slow to express them.

It is the most hysterical, easily influenced type of fan who has devoted his time to shouting that the New York Yankees have such a strong attack that they cannot be put out.

The old-timers come into Pittsburgh with somewhat maturer opinions. This does not refer to National supporters alone.. There are men who have followed American League champions since the founding of the league who have come to the series declaring that it is the height of foolishness to count the New York Yankees "home" without a struggle.

Wise baseball men declare that sentiment which favors the Yanks overlooks the old adage that good pitching, more often than anything else, wins World Series.

One has only to draw a simple comparison of the respective pitching staffs: The Yankees—Waite Hoyt, Wiley Moore, Herb Pennock, Urban Shocker and Bob Shawkey; The Pirates—Remy Kremer, Carmen Hill, Vic Aldridge, Lee Meadows, and John Miljus.

The Pirates, these same wise baseball men declare, are stronger in the box.

What price a couple of stray home runs, then?

INDIANA SPORTS

Would Can Huddle System

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—The Huddle system of calling football signals is in a fair way to be discarded, if Coach Pat Page's first effort to return to the old method of calling signals from formation meets with the success he expects.

Page will not use the Huddle in the game against Chicago Saturday. If things go smoothly, he intends to have signals called for the rest of the season.

Pat declares that if cheer leaders, bands and noisy rooters would remain quiet long enough, the quarterbacks would call signals from regular formation. He explained that the 15 seconds given to form a huddle is not sufficient and sometimes results in misplays.

He declared himself vigorously opposed to the huddle system, comparing it with the stall used in basketball and the rain delay common to professional baseball games.

Heads Basketball League

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Cash Keller of Huntington yesterday was elected president of the Indiana Junior basketball association at its annual meeting here last night.

Gasoline Low Priced

"Despite that domestic consumption has multiplied by more than nine since 1913, gasoline makes a strong claim to be, by comparison with the general price level, our cheapest commodity of general and extended use."

"Taking 100 as the 1913 index figure for commodity prices, the 1926 index figure was 151, according to the U. S. Department of Labor statistics. That is, there has been an average advance of 51 per cent. Various groups, however, have been variously affected."

"... Then the ratio of increase tapers off, until at the bottom we find gasoline, its index figure 118.1."

"That is, while the index figure of all commodities advanced 51 points, and while some important groups advanced over 100, gasoline gained only 18 points."

THE paragraphs quoted are from an article by Judson C. Welliver appearing in the August issue of the American Review of Reviews.

This unique record of the petroleum industry stands as a tribute to science and efficiency.

In making gasoline the least expensive of commodities, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has done its share. Improved methods and processes have been developed in its scientific laboratories. Waste has been eliminated and efficiency promoted by its constant search for improvements.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) exists to serve the people of the Middle West and it has never wavered from that purpose. This faithfulness to an abiding ideal has earned for it the confidence of those whom it serves.

Every day gasoline of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) fuels millions of cars. The motorist is confident that the gasoline which flows into his tank from a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) pump will "deliver the goods" because it always is uniform in quality.

He has learned to trust the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for he has found its name a guarantee of quality. He knows that every gallon of gasoline it sells must carry on its reputation for integrity.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has helped to make gasoline not only one of the lowest priced commodities, as Mr. Welliver has shown it to be, but one of the most dependable as well.

Dependability is important, for gasoline—unlike most commodities—is mysterious to the average man, revealing little by its appearance.

No one can tell how it will work in a car by looking at it. But everyone knows how it will work in a car if it is the product of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The interest and responsibility of this Company does not stop with the sale of the gasoline.

It is a part of the service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to provide the people of the Middle West with gasoline whose performance they can depend upon—at the lowest possible price.

HOW MRS. WEAVER WAS HELPED

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

As Mrs. Weaver herself says, "I was never very strong." This is a mild statement describing her condition, for, according to her letters, she was subjected to no small amount of ill health. Fortunately, her sister was familiar with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged Mrs. Weaver to try it. "After three or four weeks," writes Mrs. Weaver, "I felt a great difference in myself. I would go to bed and sleep sound, and although I could not do very much work, I seemed stronger. I kept on taking it and now I am well and strong, do my work and take care of three children. I sure do tell my friends about your wonderful medicine, and I will answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—MRS. LAWRENCE WEAVER, East Smithfield St., Mt. Pleasant, Pa.

If you knew that thousands of women suffering from troubles similar to those you are enduring had improved their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, wouldn't you think it was worth a trial?

In some families, the fourth generation is learning the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN STRUCK BY I. & C. CAR

Lester Marshall of This County Suffers Crushed Chest And Internal Injuries

MAN FAINTS, BREAKS JAW

Lester Marshall of this county, living near Blue Ridge, was seriously injured Sunday night when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by an I. & C. traction car at a street crossing in Shelbyville. E. O. Hobbs, a newspaper man of Greensburg, who was a passenger on the interurban car enroute to Greensburg, stepped from the traction car to view the wreckage and at the sight of the blood, fell in a faint with his head striking the curb stone, and breaking his lower jaw bone.

Both injured men were taken to the hospital in Shelbyville, where they are patients. Marshall's condition is serious, with a crushed chest and internal injuries. He was driving a Ford sedan, and was accompanied by George N. Meal of Rush county, also a resident near Blue Ridge.

According to reports the machine is owned by Mr. Meal, who is said to have run down the street when the accident happened, and who had not appeared at Shelbyville Monday for his car or make inquiry concerning the injured man. Police of Shelbyville are investigating a report that the two men were drunk, and charges may be filed against them, it was stated.

the second man to head the board of works since Duvall took office 22 months ago, tendered his resignation, asking it "take effect at once."

Vandagrifft asserted that his resignation was "not an indirect admission of guilt," and declared it was not a matter of "quitting under fire." His official acts were not concerned in the "blue sky" law charge returned agains Vandagrifft. It related to his conduct as a trustee of the Electric Oil Well Rejuvenator company.

Linked with the shakeup was an uplifting of eyebrows over failure of councilman Boynton J. Moore to introduce his resolution of impeachment at the regular council meeting last night and uncertainty over whether it would be produced at the adjourned session tonight.

Boynton stoutly denied he knew nothing of the report that some council members were using the resolution as a club in an attempt to force Duvall to make certain changes.

But he admitted that some such motive may be in the minds of some of the councilmen. He promised that he would inquire into the vague reports and arranged to confer with some of the council members during the day.

Duvall was silent. Mrs. Duvall, whom he appointed as city controller, was busy in her office and said she was "attending to business us usual."

The storm breaking around the mayor's head has drawn from him only the statement that he is "sitting tight."

To demands by the City Manager League executive committee and one civic organization after another that he "help clear the city's name" by resigning, he has had but one reply:

Convicted of violating the corrupt practices act, he has maintained that he is still legally mayor of Indianapolis, until his intended appeal to the Indiana supreme court has failed, and not before. Arguments on a new trial are to be heard Saturday, and if it is denied, the appeal probably will be taken.

If he quit, Mrs. Duvall would succeed him.

No Comment by Gov. Jackson

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4—(U.P.)—Until he has received formal notification of it, Gov. Ed Jackson said today that he would have no comment to offer on the resolution adopted by the Inidanapolis City Manager League Executive Committee, demanding he call a special session of the legislature to repeal the "Mayor Saviour" clause of the city manager law.

The committee asked repeal of the clause in order that the city manager form of government may be effective at once, thus ousting Mayor John L. Duvall, and his wife, who is city controller.

litics.

Peters' parting shot was a categorical assertion that he was not interested in the "fourteen points" contained in Gilliom's "bill of particulars." These points were the attorney general's listing of what he termed "insidious influences" in the democratic party, four dealing with the anti-saloon league and ten with the klan.

Peters' letter of reply, received by Gilliom today, contained three points. On these he said he based his lack of interest in Gilliom's charges. They were, he told Gilliom:

"Your pre-election opinion that D. C. Stephenson could not be removed from prison to Indianapolis to testify.

"Your opinion at Vincennes on the eve of the last election that no prominent member of the state administration was contaminated by the influences against which you now inveigh.

"Your opinion expressed at a republican meeting at Lagrange this summer that the time would come when Gov. Ed Jackson's administration would be regarded as the greatest which Indiana has ever had."

W. E. M. Hackleman, Also Composer, Fatally Hurt In Auto Accident

Indianapolis, Oct. 4—(U.P.)—William E. M. Hackleman, 59, one of the foremost evangelist leaders of the United States, was fatally injured yesterday in an accident when the automobile in which he was riding was crowded off the road near St. Elmo, Ill., according to word received here.

Hackleman and Charles W. Daugherty, also of Indianapolis were on their way to Springfield, Ill., to attend a convention of Disciples of Christ when their small roadster was crowded off the road by a larger car. The roadster rolled over and landed upside down in a ditch. The other car did not stop.

Hackleman was nationally known, not only because of his leadership in evangelistic meetings, but as a composer and publisher of devotional music. "Gloria in Excelsis," is among the best known hymns.

TAKING THE HURDLE.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Careful Attention Means Long Wear

It isn't so much how hard you run your car, it's how good you take care of it that makes the difference how long it will hold up and give good service. Run it as hard as you like but look after every detail and don't let the slightest defect go unattended.

The easy way is to let us take care of it regularly — bring it in at regular intervals and let us service it. Our mechanics know how, let them worry about your car troubles.
